Dedication: Mrs. Josephine Parlagreco

Mr. and Mrs. P. and Rory

The class of 1991 would like to show their appreciation by dedicating this yearbook to Mrs. Josephine Parlagreco and her family. Mrs. P. put in many hours of work, as Class and Student Council advisor. Even though Mrs. P. wasn't in school, she took the time out of her personal life to come in and help us organize our class functions. A special thanks goes out to Mr. P. and Rory for going above and beyond what would normally be expected of a family member. We speak not only for our class, but for the rest of the school as well, when we say thank you very much and we will miss you next year!

Thank You,

The Class of 1991

Millis Public Library

Superintendent

To the Class of 1991:

Your class motto, "Millis High School: Small School, Big Family," captures the positive spirit and experiences that you have shared with each other and the town throughout your years in Millis.

Your leadership, scholarship and friendship have been important examples of excellence for me to observe in my first year in Millis. As your new Superintendent of Schools you all have made me feel welcome through informal and formal meetings, whether individually or in small or large groups.

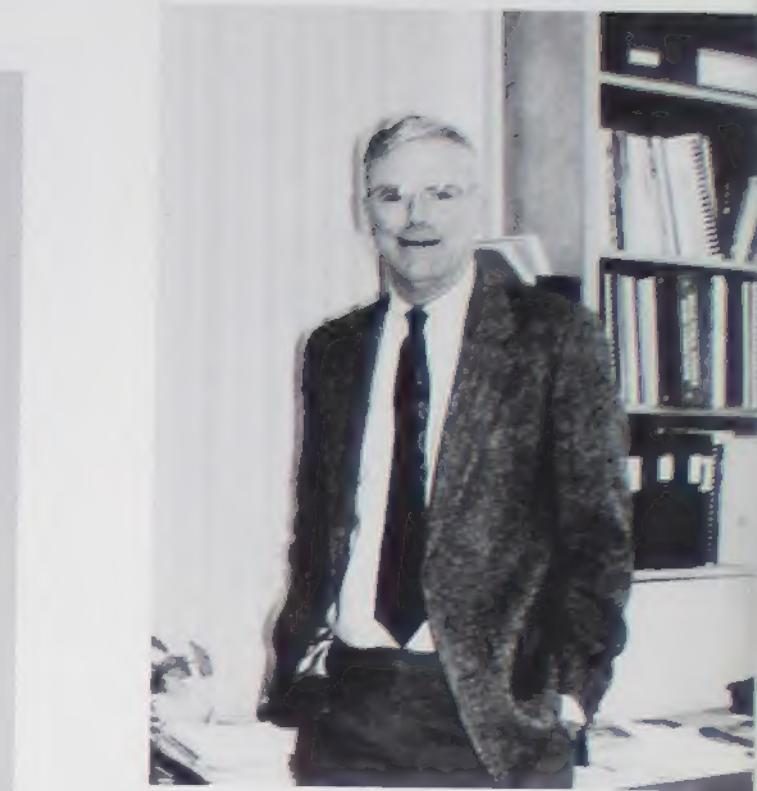

The world which you are entering as young adults is one that will increasingly be sharing resources and opportunities. Indeed, your theme could be modified to "Small World, Big Family" and serve as your motto in your lives. Whatever life choices you make, it is my hope that your community life and school experiences in Millis will always contribute to your leading a meaningful, fulfilling life.

Congratulations on behalf of the School Committee and myself for achieving this important step.

Daniel K. Kehoe
Superintendent of Schools

To the Class of 1991:

To put into a few words what this class has given Millis High School as its legacy is an impossibility. Although it is the smallest in number in recent years, it is the largest in terms of accomplishments and contributions. Through your example and achievement you have done much to support the belief that an excellent education is available in the Millis Public Schools if you are willing to work for it.

You are an exceptional class: one which has not only made its mark in the classroom, but one which has had a tremendous positive influence on an entire school system. You have taken your talents and used them wisely and humanely. Every step has been focused; every act meaningful; every deed unselfish. To those to whom much has been given, much is expected. I personally feel confident that the Class of 1991 will have considerable impact in the future as it fulfills its destiny.

The staff and I congratulate each one of you on your accomplishments thus far and sincerely appreciate the opportunity to have been a part of the events which have brought you to this point in your lives.

Sincerely,

This year's Academic Decathlon team worked many long hours to achieve the victories that follow. On November 17th at the Regional Competition, the team placed 14th out of 67 schools from all over Massachusetts which earned them a place in the State Finals. At the Regionals the team earned 1 gold, 1 silver and 4 bronze medals. In February, the team entered the "Small Schools Competition" and placed first out of the 14 schools entered! Jackie and Jay tied for the highest overall score and the team brought home 2 gold, 1 silver and 4 bronze medals. The last competition was the State Finals; the team placed 9th in the state and brought home 1 gold and 3 bronze medals. Congratulations!

With our new coach, Rick Niedbala, we didn't know what to expect. We were in for a pleasant surprise for our season was a lot of fun. Coach taught us some new German words (unfortunately, they were only harmless field calls). At 4-8-4, our record had improved from the previous year. We enjoyed a season opening win in Bellingham, two defeats of Hopkinton, and a tie with D-S on the last game of the season in sub-zero temperatures. The team was captained by Dan, who tended the net and earned MVP. Wayne, Scott, and Tim B. J. was the team's representative to the Tri-Valley League All-Star Squad. Coach Vigue came back to work with the younger kids on the J.V. team, which rolled to an admirable record of 7-8-1.

Varsity

Captains: Susan Jefferies, Kiersten McGrath, Jennifer Miller and Kerry Collins

This year's exciting season ended with a gallant effort in the first round of the state tournament.

Players making it to the All-Star team were Jennifer Miller, Kiesten McGrath, Susan Jefferies and Kerry Collins.

Football

This year's season was not a complete loss, with only five seniors playing, it gave the younger kids a chance to gain experience on the field. We made the best of it, not letting our record get us down. With no pressure on us, we had a blast!

Volleyball

Varsity

Although the girls' volleyball team did not have a winning season, it was a fun year guided by Coach Marak and senior co-captains Michelle Barber and Dina Everett. Much time was spent rebuilding the team that had lost five seniors the year before. With only two returning starters, six sophomores, a junior and three seniors we had our work cut out for us. The dedication and hard work of the girls paid off, showing in many close matches and wins against Ashland and Medfield. Senior setter Dina Everett and junior setter Kelley Quinn were honorable mention All-Stars. Next years team looks promising and the seniors wish them the best of luck.

Moscow to Millis Student Peace Trip

March 6th was the culmination of the International Club's efforts to bring members of Moscow School 140 to Millis. On the 6th a small contingent of Millis students, faculty and parents rode to New York to pick up our Russian visitors. School began on the 7th with a Welcome-to-Millis assembly. Many interesting gifts were presented by Nina Ovchinnikova, the Principal of Moscow School 140. Some of these gifts are shown in the photos at the top of the page. The Russians were surprised and told us many times how nice it was that we always seem to be smiling. That was probably one reason that they adjusted to Millis so well. The students took part in the Intramural Volleyball games and spent many hours in the computer labs drawing and playing games. Outside weekday trips included: Clyde Brown School, Middle School, The Center for the Deaf, Millis Country Day School, and the State House. Weekends were also a time for sightseeing with trips to Boston and other various places.

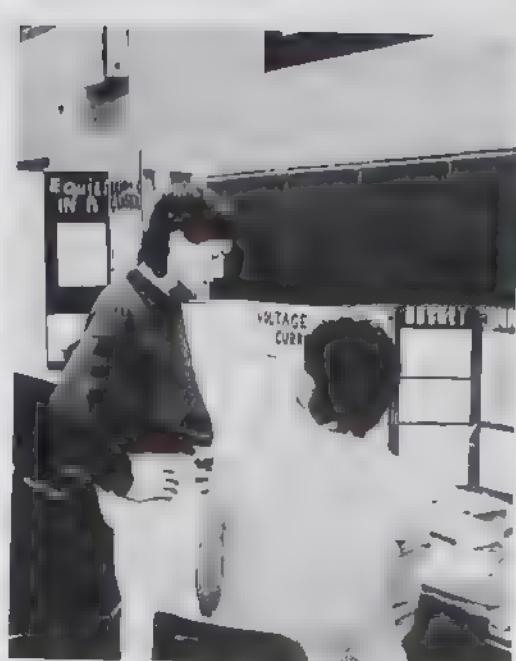

The cake above was a symbol of the feelings expressed by both Millis and Moscow students by the end of the visit. SADD hosted a dance which was well attended by both Millis and Russian students. During their time in Millis, the Russians became used to attending events in their honor. Many receptions were held and hosted by various town organizations. Lastly, there were farewell assemblies during school and in the evening. No one could have predicted the number of gifts that were exchanged! On the morning of the 20th the entire school went out to wish our visitors goodbye. Soon we will meet again in Moscow!

Varsity

The highlight of the Basketball season was the win over Bellingham by a single point. The home crowd went wild as the time waned down toward Millis' first win. Other victories followed, including a blowout of Hudson-Catholic and a strong showing against Tri-Valley foe, Holliston. During the season, Mike Diatelevi pumped in the treys from outside to lead the offense, and the whole team came together to play tenacious defense, keeping opponents well under their scoring average. The team was captained by Diatelevi and Scott Lajoie. The J.V. and Freshmen team had positive outings and will hopefully foster Varsity superstars for the years to come.

Boys' Tennis

The Boys' Tennis Team enjoyed another great season with Coach Karoghlanian. The young team, consisting of a mere three seniors, was captained by Mike Diatelevi and Scott Lajoie. The team competed strongly in a tough league losing a handful of close matches, 3-2. The representative to the TriValley League All-Star team was Mike Diatelevi. The best representation of the fun we shared was depicted in the pizza bash at the Union House Cafe at the end of the season.

Valedictorian Jackie Gillis

As we gather here tonight to celebrate our graduation and prepare to leave Millis High School behind, we realize that it is now time to move on and explore new horizons. Our futures eagerly await. As we stand on the brink of adulthood, unsure of the next step, it may seem necessary to look back into the past, into those familiar days of childhood where we can find comfort. I would ask you now to take a few moments and do this, look back. Remember one day in particular when you, much like on graduation day, were forced to grow up a little, even if you were not ready. The day I have in mind is the time my parents took me into a huge department store and much to my dismay, we became separated. I was just an average four year old, following Mom and Dad around the store for what seemed like hours.

When, all of a sudden, I spied an aisle full of brightly colored toys. As I turned the corner and walked down that particular section of the store, I soon realized I was all alone. Desperate thoughts passed through my head, where had Mom and Dad gone? Would I ever find them again? Tears rolled from my eyes as I meandered throughout the store hoping they had not left without me. I guess I finally wandered to the front of the store where someone in charge discovered me. What was my name, how old was I, where were my parents? My lips froze. All I could manage was a whimper of sorts. Then, this kind gentleman took me by the hand and soon I was watching him attempt to give a description of the little lost girl over the public address system. At this point my courage failed and I began wailing loudly. Luckily for me, my parents recognized my distinctive scream and quickly appeared to rescue me.

Although this event may seem somewhat trivial, it does relate a great deal to tonight. As a separation from one's parents is a type of initiation, so is graduation an initiation into adulthood. When I was four, a large department store was the unknown to be feared and dealt with. Tonight, as we approach adulthood, our department stores are replaced by unexplored futures containing college, work, and the armed forces.

As we were all at one time or another lost and then found in a store, we realize tonight that it is at last time to find our true selves. We have been influenced and helped along by parents, teachers, and friends. It is finally time to test ourselves.

It is necessary for us to exert our independence. In our childhood, we wandered away from our parents, now we will consciously take those steps knowing we are passing into adulthood.

It is finally time for us to define ourselves as important, working members of society. We are no longer judged by our name, age, or location of our parents as I was by the department store employee. We will now define ourselves by our colleges, jobs, and accomplishments.

Lastly, is the importance of voice. Our voices are no longer going to be used for cries of help when we are lost. At this point, we must realize that whenever we see injustice it is time to speak out. We can change the world but only when and if we are heard.

I would just like to say good luck to the Class of 1991. Follow your dreams and never let anything stand in the way of your happiness.

Salutatorian Scott Lajoie

We assemble here tonight, not to feel depressed and sorrowful because our schooling in the Millis Public Schools and life with each other has drawn to a close, but to celebrate our accomplishments, the memories we have shared and especially ourselves, the unique individuals who constitute the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Ninety-One.

Allow me to reveal a single anecdote that, to me, depicts the love and support we classmates have extended to one another over the years.

On the night of the prom, as governed by tradition, the members of the Senior class line up to impart final farewells upon the underclassmen. It's an emotional event because it finally dawns on us that it is almost time to part our separate ways. This year, as I stood in that line, a friend had some sincere words for me

She said, "For the past few years you've been a remarkable influence on me. Thanks." I do not remember what I replied because I was so astonished and likewise flustered from the impact of her words. Later on, when I had collected my thoughts, I realized how much of an influence SHE had been on me.

Influence is an essential part of the development of all of us. It ranges from a smile in the hallway, to a long and meaningful friendship, that weathers through the bad times as well as the good. We are indeed shaped by those around us and there comes a time when one must acknowledge all of the influences that he or she has received. I wish I had time to mention everyone, but I will just make known a few special people

I would like to say thank you to each one of my teachers, especially George Ford and Francis Flanagan who went beyond that to become true friends. Thank you, Michael Diatelevi, for being my best friend for fourteen years and hopefully many years to come. Thank you, Jake Fraser, Tim Ritterbusch, Wayne Brown, Dan Bergen and the rest of the Class of 1991 for being there for me at one point in time or another. Thank you, Mom, Dad and the rest of my family for providing me with love and support for the past eighteen years. It is too bad that we all cannot stand up in public and pay a much needed tribute to those who made us what we are today

Millis, being the small community that it is, offers the chance for everyone to become an influence on one another. People come and go and it may seem that only some make a mark, but in reality, EVERYONE leaves their footprints on our hearts.

After tonight, we are on our own to discover a whole new set of influences. Our personal experiences in the past have nurtured our growth and molded us into distinct personalities. We must take what we have learned from these experiences into the future.

To my classmates, teachers, family and friends, do not forget me for I am a part of you. I surely will never forget you, for you are a part of me.

Congratulations Karyn,

HE strengthens those who are weak & tired,
even those who are young grow weak;
young men can fall exhausted.

But those who trust in the Lord for help

They will run and not get weary, and will walk and not grow weak.
